Re: Donation of Bicycles; Abandoned Property

As we have discussed briefly, our bicycle impound storage unit is very overcrowded with dilapidated bicycles (approx. 90-100). These bicycles are the product of citizens or officers finding them "abandoned" and calling police to take custody of them. Once we take custody we prepare a report indicating how we took possession.

The bicycles in question have been stored for more than 6 months with no owner making any claim. As Deputy Chief Murphy indicates in his memorandum, our on-line auction company will not accept these bicycles for auction in their condition (worth less than $100.00) and selling them ourselves is not an option. (See attached Item status reports)

Under the Law Enforcement Disposition of Property Act, 765 ILCS 1030, any property believed to be abandoned, lost or stolen can be held by the Chief of Police with reasonable efforts made to locate the owner. If the rightful owner is not located within 6 months after the police department takes possession of the property, the Chief of Police can sell the property at public auction or donate the property if the value is less than $100.00. In order to donate the property the statute dictates that the donation is approved by the "governing body" of which the law enforcement agency is under.

A charitable organization called Working Bikes will accept large quantities of "junk" bicycles, restore them, and give them to people in need. As the bicycles are worthless to us and taking up a large amount of our storage facility, I support Deputy Chief Murphy's recommendation that we donate the bicycles as the Law Enforcement Disposition of Property Act dictates.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Chief of Police J. Volpe

FROM: Deputy Chief W. Murphy

DATE: April 19, 2016

SUBJECT: Abandoned Property - Bicycles

The police department is currently in possession of more than 90 bicycles that had been recovered as abandoned property. The vast majority of these bicycles have been held in excess of the 6 month waiting period delineated in 765 ILCS 1030 Law Enforcement Disposition of Property Act. In many circumstances the bicycles have been retained for several years. This act provides law enforcement agencies with direction to either sell the property at public auction unless the interests of the public would be better served through charitable donation of any property under $100.

Our online auction partner, www.propertyroom.com, stopped accepting bicycles for auction in 2014. We have been unable to identify an alternative auction site for the disposal of the bicycles as there is little profit for companies. In the past, the police department has hosted onsite public auctions for bicycles. However the associated costs and personnel time commitment eliminate this as a viable option. The identified bicycles have individual value less than $100 and continue to depreciate making them more problematic than valuable. I am of the opinion that the most efficient and cost-effective way to deal with this issue is to donate the bicycles as allowed by statute.

On a local level there are few, if any, charitable organizations willing and capable of accepting such a large donation. In this instance, a larger entity would be better equipped to handle a one-time donation of such a large number of bicycles. Researching this issue has identified a 501(c)(3) charitable organization named Working Bikes. The organization accepts bicycle donations, repairs/reconditions the bicycles and donates them to those in need. They donate the bicycles locally and internationally. Additional information can be obtained from the organization's website www.workingbikes.org. Preliminary inquiries have confirmed the organization's willingness to accept such a large donation if approved by the city administration.

I recommend we seek approval to make a one-time donation to Working Bikes. A copy of the applicable statutes, general information about Working Bikes, and the list of bicycles ready for disposal are attached to this memorandum.
