Gypsy Moth Aerial Spraying Taking Place in Late June

In late June, the Illinois Department of Agriculture will be spraying an aerial treatment affecting the Lymantria dispar, also known as the gypsy moth, in Wheaton. The gypsy moth is a non-native pest, similar to the emerald ash borer, that is capable of stripping plants of their leaves which makes them susceptible to disease and other stressors which can ultimately lead to tree death. The gypsy moth feeds on over 500 species of plants but prefers the oak and willow trees. It is one of the most damaging insects to forests and trees in the United States.

In order to slow the growing population of gypsy moths, low flying yellow airplanes will be spraying Splat GM, a chemical that copies the female gypsy moth pheromone at the end of June, as weather permits. The over abundance of the female pheromone that will be sprayed will confuse the male gypsy moths and will result in less mating and less gypsy moths overall in the area. The planes will be flying 100 to 200 feet above treetops, spraying the chemical that has a consistency of hand lotion. The City is sharing this information so that residents are not alarmed to see planes flying lower than normal and spraying this aerial application.

Splat GM is not harmful to humans, animals, or any other living organisms besides the gypsy moth. Caterpillars of other moth species and butterflies will not be affected by this pheromone. It will also not damage the paint on cars or vinyl siding on houses. After spraying, Splat GM may be noticed on outdoor furniture and equipment, but it can be washed off with warm soapy water if desired. Splat GM will not harm grass or lawns and will immediately start biodegrading into the soil.

More information about the Lymantria dispar and the aerial spraying can be found at the Department of Agriculture website: www.slowthespread.org/pages/illinois-outreach. The Dekalb Office can be contacted at 815-347-0401 or the Program Manager can be reached at nancy.johnson@illinois.gov. Gypsy Moth Specialists will be in the field on the spray team during the aerial treatment.

Yellow airplanes will be distributing the aerial spray in late June.

New DuPage County Initiative Allows Voting at Any Polling Place in Primary Election

DuPage will be the first county in Illinois to launch the option for voters to cast a ballot in any one of its 263 polling places in 2022. Voters can now cast their vote conveniently at any polling place near their job, school or residence and they will not be turned away for being in the wrong polling place like in years past. The same processes and safeguards will be in place that are utilized for early voting. Early Voting allowed registered voters to cast their ballot outside their assigned polling place before the election, but now this comfort is included on election day as well. Pending location availability, the number of polling places that will be used in 2022 will be the same as 2020.

Information, including an application to Vote by Mail, new district information, polling place location and information that voters may choose to cast a ballot anywhere within the county was sent to all residents within DuPage County at the end of May. The permanent Vote-By-Mail application allows voters to receive a mail-in ballot for every election. Until now, voters preferring mail-in ballots had to apply one election at a time. 2022 is the first year permanent Vote-By-Mail is available in Illinois, after the Illinois General Assembly passed it into law last year. Mail voting was expanded in Illinois in 2020 in response to COVID-19 so that voters could safely vote at home.

State and federal laws require election authorities to complete regular voter registration verifications to keep the database current by eliminating voters who have passed away or moved. If a mailer is delivered to an individual who no longer lives at the address, residents are encouraged to mark "RETURN TO SENDER" or "DECEASED" on the mailer and drop it back in the mail. No additional postage is required. Early Voting is open at the DuPage Fairgrounds. Starting June 13, 22 Early Voting sites will open. June 28 is the Primary Election Day.

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Wheaton Continues Focus on Sustainability

Mayor Sueess

As the weather continues to warm up and more families take to the outdoors, it is easy to look around the City and see all of the environmental sustainability efforts that have been made in recent years that continue to help our area flourish. As environmental sustainability is one of the City's Strategic Goals, we are continually working to reduce the City's carbon footprint while maintaining natural resources by interacting with our environment in a responsible manner.

The City of Wheaton has taken many steps in order to increase our environmental sustainability. Over the past 5 years, Wheaton has planted 3,241 trees across the city. Over 300 of those are specifically in the Downtown Streetscape. Thanks to these efforts, Wheaton has been named a Tree City USA for the 37th year in a row. Residents are encouraged to participate in our Shared Cost Parkway Tree Planting Program to further enhance the treescape in our community.

Because vehicles produce many air pollutants, Wheaton has made efforts to decrease the number of pollutants that are in the air from the City's vehicles. In 2021, Wheaton added 6 hybrid police squad cars to its fleet, which now totals 18 hybrids vehicles. The City continues downsizing vehicles where appropriate and selecting fuel-efficient and hybrid models when possible.

More efficient lighting is another opportunity to improve environmental sustainability. The City has an active program to replace existing light fixtures with the remaining expected to be replaced over the next two years with LED lights, which use less energy and have a longer lifespan. The Public Works department has replaced 58% of Wheaton's streetlights with LED fixtures, which use 60% less energy than the ones they replaced. This program is expected to be completed over the next two years.

Wheaton has been a leader in adopting programs that encourage residents to reduce the amount of waste they produce. We have used a pay as you throw waste model for more than 30 years, which provides a financial incentive for producing less waste by charging residents for only the amount of waste they put at the curb.

We continue to invest in the walkability of our community by building in excess of four miles of new sidewalks this year. As a residential community increasing walkability is an ongoing initiative.

Environmental sustainability cannot be accomplished overnight. Many efforts must be made in order to make a difference, but the City of Wheaton is certainly on our way to becoming more environmentally friendly, and I am excited to see the additional benefits that come from these efforts.

Wheaton Municipal Band Concerts Return June 9

The Wheaton Municipal Band is back for another summer of performances and kicks off their season on June 9 at the bandshell in Memorial Park. Their opening concert will celebrate the joys of making music and the band will be joined by students from Wheaton North High School and Wheaton Warrenville-South High School for an antiphonal finale that will not be forgotten. Every Thursday, starting on June 9 through August 4, as weather permits, the Municipal band will hold a concert in the bandshell starting at 7 p.m. The concerts are free, and all are welcome. For a full calendar of their performances, visit www.wheatonmunicipalband.org.

The Band has over 80 members that play every Thursday night at the Bandshell.

Help Prevent Mosquito-Transmitted Diseases

Each year, the Wheaton Mosquito Abatement District (a separate government entity from the City of Wheaton) monitors the area for mosquito transmitted diseases with the Illinois Department of Health, DuPage County Health Department, Forest Preserve District of DuPage County, and Clarke Environmental Mosquito Management, Inc. (Clarke).

Under the authority of the Illinois Mosquito Abatement District, field technicians perform mosquito control activities on public and private properties for the control of mosquitoes and protection of public health. This includes adult mosquito population surveillance, larval site monitoring, biological control, and strategic use of EPA labeled and registered pesticide products, if necessary.

The West Nile virus is spread through the bite of infected mosquitoes. Symptoms are initially similar to the flu, with muscle weakness and disorientation. Though the majority of those infected will have mild symptoms or no symptoms at all, in some individuals, WNV can cause inflammation of the brain (encephalitis) and in severe cases, paralysis, coma or death. The disease is most serious – even fatal – in those with compromised immune systems and the elderly.

The Zika virus (ZIKV) is a mosquito-borne disease that is transmitted primarily by the Aedes aegypti mosquito and sexual transmission. Aedes aegypti is a tropical mosquito that does not occur in northern Illinois. While the Zika Virus symptoms are generally mild in adults (fever, rash, joint pain and conjunctivitis), pregnant women who contract ZIKV can pass the virus to their unborn children, increasing the risks of serious birth defects like microcephaly.

The Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE) is a mosquito-borne disease primarily vectored by Culiseta melanura, which lives in freshwater hardwood swamps, generally on the Atlantic coast and around the Great Lakes. The disease is one of the most dangerous mosquito-borne diseases; one in three patients diagnosed will die from EEE. While Illinois does not have a recent history of EEE cases, the proximity of the cases in both Indiana and Michigan and historic cases in Wisconsin call for continued vigilance.

For the latest information, consult the Illinois Department of Health website at www.idph.illinois.gov, or the DuPage County Health Department website at www.dupagehealth.org.

Being Prepared for Lightning Can Save Lives

As fascinating as lightning can be to watch, the Illinois Emergency Management Agency wants residents to know that it is also extremely dangerous. There are an estimated 23 million cloud-to-ground lightning flashes each year, almost 800,000 occurring in Illinois alone. More than 1,000 people are injured by lightning strikes in the United States each year. To prevent injury from lightning strikes, education is extremely important.

Completely eliminating the risk of being struck by lightning is impossible but reducing the risk of being struck is completely doable.

- If thunderstorms are in the forecast, consider postponing outdoor activities.
- Listen to the radio to be up to date on weather patterns and alerts.
- Watch the sky and look for dark clouds approaching.
- If the radio you are listening to has static, that can also be a hint that storms are approaching.
- If you hear thunder, go indoors immediately. If you can hear thunder, you are close enough to be struck by lightning, even if it isn't raining. The best shelter for lightning is inside a solid structure with the windows and doors closed. If a substantial shelter is not available or nearby, seek shelter in a vehicle with the windows closed. Avoid carports, porches, garages, sheds, tents, baseball dugouts, bleachers or any shelter that does not have walls, doors, and windows that can be closed. If you or someone you are with is struck by lightning, they are safe to touch after, they do not carry any electrical charge. Call 9-1-1 Immediately and check to see if the victim is breathing.
