City Council to Vote on Proposed Parking Fee Changes

The City is proposing changes to its existing parking fees to fund the upkeep of City-maintained parking lots, public garages and street parking.

The City of Wheaton maintains two public parking garages, numerous parking lots, two train stations, many on-street spaces, and parking payment kiosks. These facilities and associated parking enforcement are funded through leased parking permits, daily parking fees and metered parking. The City has not adjusted most of these rates in more than 15 years. In addition, since 2019, parking revenues have declined, most notably with the decrease in commuters from 2020 to the present. Expenses, however, continue to increase.

The City is proposing changes that include the introduction of premium daily fee parking zones for spaces closest to both train stations, an increase of $0.50 per day for many daily fee parking spaces, and adjustments to leased parking permit fees. These proposed fees impact employee leased spaces and commuter spaces. Customer parking in the downtown and in the garages will remain free. The City Council initially reviewed a comprehensive parking study prepared by staff at the Sept. 25, 2023, Planning Session.

City of Wheaton Severe Winter Weather Reminders

With the extremely cold weather over the past few weeks, please keep in mind the following important reminders:

- After 2" of accumulated snow, there is no parking allowed on City streets. This is to allow City crews to safely clear streets to the curb. Violators will be ticketed and may be towed at the owner's expense, as it is important for snowplows to be able to make roads safe and passable for emergency vehicles and others on the roads.

- Blowing or shoveling snow into the street is prohibited. This hinders the efforts of snow removal crews and creates a hazard for other drivers. Do not push snow onto opposite

- parkways. If power outages occur, please contact ComEd at 800-Edison1 (800-334-7661)
- In extreme temperatures, the Wheaton Public Library, 225 N. Cross St., serves as a warming site during its open hours.
- The Public Works Department uses a prioritized system to clear roads, starting with main thoroughfares, high volume areas and potentially dangerous areas; then they clear secondary & residential streets; cul-de-sacs and dead-ends are last plowed, as pickup trucks are used rather than large snowplows.
- Follow the National Weather Service for weather updates.

Check Out Black History Month Events and Information

Each February, people across the United States take part in recognizing Black History Month with events and education to further the public's understanding of Black history. Wheaton's Community Relations Commission encourages the community to learn about Black History Month and explore some of the many local events offered for the community throughout the month. Visit wheaton.il.us/BlackHistoryMonth to find local events and more information.

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Spotlight on Wheaton's Boards & Commissions

Mayor Sueß

As a Wheaton community member, I am proud to recognize the public service efforts of our residents. Over 100 residents volunteer their time and talents to serve as members of Wheaton's 15 boards and commissions. Their participation and involvement not only enriches our community but also makes Wheaton an even better place to live and work.

Whether it's overseeing new developments, hosting community-wide cultural events, or providing band concerts in Memorial Park, the efforts of the boards and commissions leave a major impact on our community. The following is just a small preview of the activities that our various boards and commissions have in store for the new year.

Wheaton's Bicyclist & Pedestrian Commission will continue its mission to encourage and foster safe bicycling and pedestrian opportunities in our community. This group will host community-favorite events including National Bike to School Day and several group walks and rides.

The Commission on Aging will continue providing services to seniors in our community. Their efforts will include providing advocacy services, evaluating the needs of the aging population, and continuing the Senior Assistance Program, which gives monthly financial assistance to qualifying seniors.

Wheaton's Community Relations Commission will bring the community together through several events and happenings. This year, we will see the return of the Wheaton Gives Back program which collects winter clothing donations for neighbors in need and the Festival of Cultures, an annual event celebrating the vibrant cultures that make Wheaton a strong and diverse community.

The Environmental Improvement Commission will host numerous events supporting sustainability, including the Native Plant Sale, Recycling Extravaganza, Pumpkin Smash, Prairie

Path Cleanup, and monthly Electronic

Recycling Drop-offs.

Wheaton's Historic Commission will continue to expand its Wheaton Register of Historic Places program, and will host history lectures and events throughout the year. With their new motto "History Lives In Wheaton," this group is certainly keeping our City's history alive.

The service contributions of all our residents are truly appreciated. If you're interested in joining a board or commission, there are several openings available, including positions on the Band Commission, Bicyclist & Pedestrian Commission, Commission on Aging, Downtown Design Review Board, Environmental Improvement Commission, Fine & Cultural Arts Commission, Historic Commission, and the Local Liquor Control Commission & Tobacco Control Commission. Learn more and complete an application by visiting the City's website at <https://www.wheaton.il.us/Boards>.

We once again thank all our board and commission members who continue their efforts in making such a positive impact on the Wheaton community.

Be Cautious of Scams this Tax Season

Many taxpayers have fallen victim to tax scams. Scammers use the regular mail, telephone, and email in search of money and personal information. Remember, the IRS doesn't initiate contact with taxpayers by email, text messages, or social media channels to request personal or financial information.

According to the IRS, here are a few common scams to be aware of this year:

- New scam mailing related to unclaimed refunds: The IRS warns taxpayers to be on the lookout for a new scam mailing that tries to mislead people into believing they are owed a refund. The new scheme involves a mailing coming in a cardboard envelope from a delivery service. The enclosed letter includes the IRS masthead with contact information and a phone number that do not belong to the IRS and wording that the notice is "in relation to your unclaimed refund."

- IRS impersonation telephone scams: A sophisticated phone scam targeting taxpayers has been occurring throughout the country. Scammers make calls posing as IRS agents, using fake names and false IRS identification badge numbers in hopes of stealing taxpayer money or personal information. They may know a lot about their targets, and they usually alter the caller ID to make it look like the IRS is calling. Victims are told they owe money to the IRS, and it must be paid promptly through a gift card or wire transfer. Victims may be threatened with arrest, deportation or suspension of a business or driver's license. In many cases, the caller becomes hostile and insulting. If the phone isn't answered, the scammers often leave an "urgent" callback request.

- Surge in Email, Phishing, and Malware Schemes: Phishing is a scam where fraudsters send email messages to trick unsuspecting victims into revealing personal and financial information that can be used to steal the victims' identity. These phishing schemes may seek information related to refunds, filing status, confirming personal information, ordering transcripts, and verifying PIN information.

To report instances of IRS-related phishing attempts and fraud, contact the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration at 800-366-4484.
