“Fight the Bite” During Prime Mosquito Season

The West Nile virus (WNV) season is here, and the DuPage County Health Department is urging residents to take precautions to “Fight the Bite” and avoid mosquito bites.

Mosquitoes become infected with WNV when they feed on infected birds and then spread WNV when they bite humans and other animals. WNV is potentially serious, and there is no specific treatment for people with WNV infection. In most cases, people experience mild symptoms and recover on their own.

However, people of all ages can be infected with WNV, with those over the age of 50 being more likely to develop serious symptoms of WNV. Residents over age 50 should take special care to avoid mosquito bites.

Which mosquitoes carry West Nile virus?

There are many types of mosquitoes, but “floodwater” or “nuisance” mosquitoes are the ones most likely to be biting you this summer. Because of all of the rain and flooding, the DuPage County Health Department expects a bumper crop of floodwater mosquitoes this year. These mosquitoes do not carry WNV.

It is nearly impossible to distinguish between the type of mosquitoes that carry West Nile virus and those that don't, so it's best to “fight the bite” of all mosquitoes.

The type that spreads WNV is Culex pipiens, which breeds in stagnant water during the hot and dry months of July and August, when there is typically little rain. Since it is nearly impossible for the naked eye to distinguish between floodwater and Culex mosquitoes, it is best to “fight the bite” of all mosquitoes.

What can you do to prevent West Nile virus?

Use repellents containing these active ingredients: DEET, Picaridin, Oil of Lemon Eucalyptus (also known as PMD) or IR3535. The EPA characterizes the active ingredients DEET and Picaridin as “conventional repellents” and Oil of Lemon Eucalyptus and IR3535 as “biopesticide repellents,” which are derived from natural materials.

Report dead birds

The DuPage County Health Department also encourages residents to report dead birds that have no obvious cause of death other than disease. Certain types of birds can carry West Nile virus, and dead birds serve as an early sign of West Nile virus in an area. Birds known to carry WNV include crows, blue jays, grackles, starlings, robins, cardinals, sparrows, finches, hawks and owls.

You can report dead birds using a new online tool on the DuPage County Health Department's website. You will be asked the address where the dead bird was found, the number of birds being reported, the type of bird and an estimate of how long the bird has been dead. Be sure to protect yourself: do not touch the birds.

The data will be shared with the Wheaton Mosquito Abatement District so it can make informed decisions about appropriate control measures.

Do You Know Your PPI?

To help area residents protect themselves against West Nile virus (WNV), the DuPage County Health Department has created a Personal Protection Index (PPI), which is a rating system informing residents of the amount of WNV activity in the county and the corresponding prevention steps that the Health Department recommends.

The PPI, which is based on the Health Department's testing of mosquitoes throughout DuPage County, provides residents with a current rating of WNV activity, ranging from zero to four, with zero being no activity and four announcing multiple human cases of WNV in DuPage County. Each of the ratings lists the prevention steps, if any, that you should take based on the current PPI.

The DuPage County Health Department's prevention steps include:

- DRAIN: Drain items that collect standing water around your home, yard or business. Scrub and refill pet water dishes and bird baths regularly.
- DEFEND: Use an insect repellent containing DEET when outdoors and reapply according to directions.
- DRESS: Wear long pants, long sleeves and closed-toe shoes when outside to cover the skin.
- DAWN & DUSK: Wear repellent if outdoors during these prime times for mosquito activity.

The PPI is available on the City's website and will be updated throughout the season each Wednesday at 3 p.m., or more often if needed.

New Ash Tree Removal Map

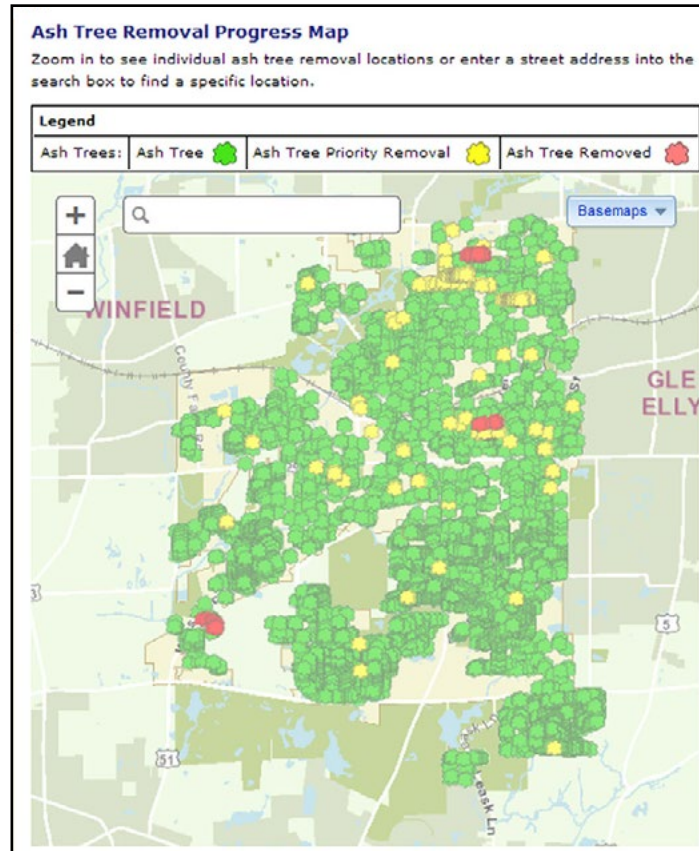

Map shows which trees already have been removed

The City recently added a tool to reflect progress on the City's ash tree removal program to take down parkway ash trees affected by the emerald ash borer.

This tool located on the City's website is a map of all ash trees within the City's parkways. It is color-coded to illustrate trees marked for removal and show which trees have already been removed.

Before contracted crews remove a tree in your parkway, you will receive a notice at least one week before removal. Crews also will mark trees selected for removal with a red dot for identification.

If your parkway ash tree is removed, you can consider participating in the Shared-Cost Parkway Tree Program, which will begin in May 2014.

You can view the map at www.wheaton.il.us/ash-treemap.

For more information on the City's response to the emerald ash borer infestation, visit the City's website.

For everyone's safety, please remove branches or shrubbery that overhang the sidewalk in a way that interferes with pedestrian traffic or inhibits the visibility of vehicle traffic. For more information, see Section 78-92 of the Wheaton City Code on the City's website.

Strong storms causing power outages coupled with record-setting heat made for potentially dangerous conditions in this area in July 2012. David Gervino of the DuPage County Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Management points to this as one recent example highlighting the importance of knowing the signs of heat illness and keeping yourself and others safe in extreme heat.

Changes to Parking Program for People with Disabilities

Some upcoming changes to the state's parking laws for people with disabilities means that all residents with disabled parking permits/placards must register again with the State of Illinois before the end of this year.

Beginning Jan. 1, 2014, only people with specific types of disabilities will be exempt from paying parking meter fees. If a person has a disability that exempts him/her from paying meter fees, he/she will be issued a yellow-and-gray striped Metered-Exempt Parking Placard.

Any person who does not have a Metered-Exempt Parking Placard will be required to pay for metered parking, regardless of whether he/she has a temporary or permanent disabled parking placard. The yellow-and-gray striped Metered-Exempt Parking Placard can only be issued by the Secretary of State's office.

The changes require the Illinois Secretary of State to re-issue new credentials to ensure that those who qualify for metered-exempt parking receive the appropriate placard.

Recertification will take place throughout calendar year 2013, with enforcement starting on Jan. 1, 2014.

If you have questions, contact the nearest Secretary of State Driver's License Facility or visit the Illinois Secretary of State's website at: www.cyberdriveillinois.com/services/persons_with_disabilities/disabilities.html.
