Ash Tree Reduction Program Continues as Infestation Spreads

Evidence of the emerald ash borer's destructive path is even more visible in Wheaton now that healthy trees are full of leaves, yet many ash trees present classic signs of infestation, including dieback starting from the top of the tree and heavy woodpecker damage. Wheaton's Forestry Division continues carrying out its ash tree reduction program and is increasing efforts to remove infested trees. However, due to the expansion of the infestation and associated costs, not all infested trees can be immediately removed.

The Wheaton City Council has allotted $350,000 for the 2013-14 fiscal year to bring in contracted crews to remove infested ash trees in City parkways and for tree replacement. Because the infestation has reached every area of the city, crews will first target dead infested trees that are in the parkways near schools and trees identified for removal last year. Removal efforts will continue until funding has been depleted.

The City's program for removing infested ash trees is only for trees located in the parkway; infested ash trees on private property are the responsibility of property owners. The City does have the authorization to require property owners to remove infested trees that are dead or substantially dead within 30 days of receiving notification from the City, as stated in Section 78 of the Wheaton City Code. However, you do not need to wait for a notice from the City in order to have infested ash trees removed.

Due to the large number of affected trees, the City may not immediately be able to inspect all infested trees,

Grant Assists City in Replacing 50 Ash Trees

Fifty new trees line East Loop Road where infected ash trees stood until a short while ago. The City recently completed replacing a large section of parkway ash trees with five different species, thanks to a federal grant from the U.S. Forest Service.

Since 2008, the City's Forestry Division has been carrying out an ongoing effort to reduce and replace ash trees on City parkways in response to this threat to the City's trees. The Illinois Department of Agriculture officially confirmed the presence of the emerald ash borer in Wheaton in 2010, and the City has continued implementing its plan to reduce the number of parkway ash trees, of which there are approximately 5,900.

A federal grant administered by the Metropolitan Mayors Caucus for nearly Crews removed infested trees in the parkway along East Loop Road. A grant assisted the City in removing and replacing these ash trees with four different types of trees.

$14,000 allowed the City to remove 55 infested ash trees in the parkway of East Loop Road and replace them with Swamp White Oak, Accolade Elm, Kentucky Coffee and Common Hackberry trees.

"In these times, money is tight, and while the City Council has awarded $350,000 to remove and replace ash trees in Wheaton, every dollar counts," said Kevin Maloney, Wheaton Forestry Superintendent.

This federal grant aims to minimize future loss of trees in communities.

Curbside E-Waste Pickup Program Begins This Month

In order to give you an additional convenient, legal way to dispose of electronics, the City has added curbside electronic pickup (E-waste) to its residential garbage contract. On July 1, Wheaton's residential garbage hauler, Advanced Disposal Services, will begin collecting electronics as part of Wheaton's curbside service.

Acceptable electronics (see below) require one garbage sticker for each item. However, up to four small items may be bundled together using one sticker. For example, a hair dryer, blender and alarm clock may be bundled. There are no weight restrictions for E-waste items.

For your security, clear off files and information from your computer and devices before placing them at the curb. The City and garbage hauler are not responsible for the security of items placed at the curb. If you're concerned about the security of your information, you can use the City's monthly drop-off. (See information at the end of this article about the monthly drop-off.) There are no weight restrictions for E-waste items.

You can place electronics at the curb for collection on your regular garbage day, but you must call Advanced Disposal Services at 630-587-8282 at least one day before your pickup day to notify the hauler that you have electronics to be picked up. Place items at the curb with the appropriate sticker by 6 a.m. on your pickup day.

ACCEPTABLE ITEMS:

Electronics:

- Examples of items requiring one sticker apiece: Televisions, printers, computers, computer monitors, laptops, gaming consoles, docking stations, fax machines, scanners, hard drives, stereos, copy machines

- Up to four smaller items can be bundled together with one sticker, such as: cell phones, keyboards/mice, extension cords, telephones, cameras, network cables, computer cords

Small household appliances:

- Examples: Blenders, microwaves, toasters, alarm clocks, hair dryers, etc. Nearly anything with a cord. Smaller items can be bundled together, up to four items, with one sticker.

NOT ACCEPTING:

- Electronics containing liquids or other hazardous materials, including air conditioners, refrigerators and dehumidifiers. (These are considered "white goods" and are collected through a separate program, one sticker apiece.)

- Household batteries
- Batteries for cars, boats or sump pumps
- Smoke detectors
- Thermostats
- CFL light bulbs or fluorescent bulbs
- Gas-powered engines

Monthly Electronic Recycling Information:

Wheaton also provides a free monthly drop-off site for electronics from 9 a.m. to noon on the second Saturday of each month at the Public Works Storage Yard, 820 W. Liberty Drive. This is an alternative to the curbside E-waste program.

Practical Tips for Safe Travel

When you're on a plane, do you know how many rows are between you and an emergency exit, just in case you need to exit quickly with low visibility? Or how many times have you traveled somewhere not knowing the county in which you were staying? This is critical information for you to know when a severe weather warning is issued for that county.

These are just a couple scenarios where being prepared for an emergency on vacation could save your life.

In a new video, "Vacation Safety." David Gervino of the DuPage County Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Management discusses these and many more practical tips to help keep Wheaton residents safe and prepared for an emergency, wherever you travel this summer. Whether you're taking a short day trip or traveling internationally, this video includes useful information for all types of situations – many of which you may not have considered.
