

How to reach us

All numbers are area code 630 unless indicated.

Mailing address: 4300 Commerce Court, Lisle, IL 60532

General information: 955-3500

Home delivery: 955-0007

Back issues: (847) 427-4733

Classified: 955-0008; class@dailyherald.com

Display ads: 955-3559; sales@dailyherald.com

Have a complaint or a compliment? Call customer service at (847) 427-4333.

News tips

Got a tip? Need to talk with an editor or reporter?

General newsroom
(9 a.m. — 5 p.m.): 955-3500; news@dailyherald.com

News tip hotline

(5 p.m. — 9 a.m.): (847) 427-4440; news@dailyherald.com

DuPage County staff

Editor Jim Davis, 955-3535; jdavis@dailyherald.com

City Editor Bob Smith, 955-3531; rsmith@dailyherald.com

Assistant City Editor Robert Sanchez, 955-3598; bsanchez@dailyherald.com

County courts: Christy Gutowski, 955-3537; cgutowski@dailyherald.com

DuPage County government, forest preserve: Jake Griffin, 955-3511; jgriffin@dailyherald.com

Local staff

Lisle, Naperville City Editor Bob Smith, 955-3531; rsmith@dailyherald.com

Assistant City Editor Christie Willhite, 955-3536; cwillhite@dailyherald.com

Community News Coordinator Susan Dibble, 955-3532; sdibble@dailyherald.com

Reporters

Naperville and District 203: Melissa Jenco, 955-3527; mjenco@dailyherald.com

Aurora and District 204: Justin Kmitch, 955-3524; jkmitch@dailyherald.com

Community news

Bensenville, Bloomingdale, Itasca, Roselle, Wood Dale: 955-3522; dupageneighbor@ dailyherald.com

Carol Stream, Glen Ellyn, Glendale Heights, Warrenville, West Chicago, Wheaton, Winfield, Addison, Lombard, Oak Brook, Oakbrook Terrace, Villa Park: Melynda Findlay, 955-3539; mfindlay@dailyherald.com

Business section

Send business tips to business@dailyherald.com

Metro editor: (847) 427-4542; jslusher@dailyherald.com

Celebrate!

Wedding, engagement and anniversary announcements are published the second Sunday of each month. To place your paid announcement, visit <http://mycelebrate.dailyherald.com>. Questions? Call (847) 427-4905, or e-mail sray@dailyherald.com.

Editorial page

We encourage letters to the editor. Letters must be signed and include daytime and evening phone numbers. Anonymous letters will not be published.

Opinion Page Editor

Anne Halston, 955-3522; ahalston@dailyherald.com

Fence post:

dfencepost@dailyherald.com

Mail: Fence post, 4300 Commerce Court, Lisle, IL 60532

Neighbor section

Neighbors in the news: dupageneighbor@dailyherald.com

Church listings:

Susan Dibble, 955-3532; sdibble@dailyherald.com

Property transfers: 955-3539
Obituaries

Call (847) 427-4776;

obits@dailyherald.com

Dancing dreams do come true

BY KIM MIKUS
kmikus@dailyherald.com

Two dancers who grew up in the suburbs started dancing about the same time they learned to walk. The professional dancers are now part of the 20th anniversary season of the River North Chicago Dance Company.

Elgin native Hanna Brictson, 23, and 25-year-old Cassandra Porter, originally from Aurora, talk about their dancing careers and what it means to be part of the anniversary season that kicks off with two world premieres.

Hanna Brictson

Q. Where did you go to high school and where do you live now?

A. I live in Chicago. I grew up in Elgin and graduated from Larkin High School.

Q. What's one of your earliest memories of dancing?

A. I started dancing when I was 2. One of my earliest memories is the first time I was on stage when I was about 3 years old. I remember being underneath the lights and seeing the audience. I still get completely nervous anytime I do a performance.

If you go

What: To celebrate the 20th season, River North Chicago Dance Company is expanding its programming this season to include a fall engagement.

When: 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 7

Where: Harris Theater for Music and Dance in Millennium Park

Tickets: $30 to $65

Info: (312) 334-7777 or harristheaterchicago.org

Q. What is it like to dance with River North?

A. I have to pinch myself in the morning before I go to work. Being able to dance every day for a living is pretty incredible.

Q. What is your dance background?

A. I'm a graduate of Larkin High School's Visual and Performing Arts Dance Academy in Elgin. I received the Women's Bureau of Arts scholarship and the Organ Donor Gift of Life award, and was offered dance scholarships to both Point Park University and Western Michigan University.

Q. How long have you been with River North?

A. I attended River North

Chicago workshops at the age of 13 and continued through the program as one of the youngest Summer Intensive program participants and company apprentices.

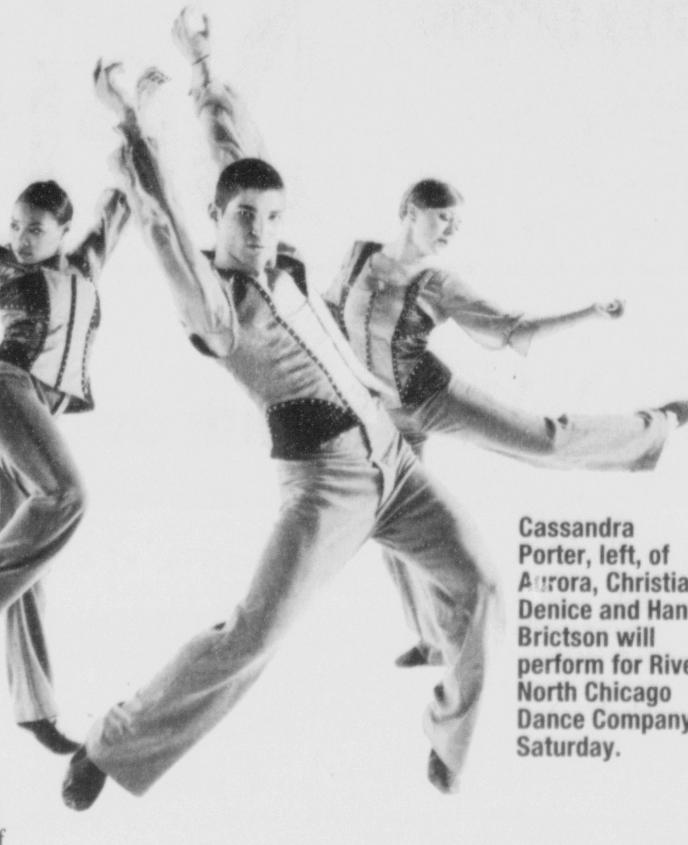

Cassandra Porter

Q. Where did you go to high school and where do you live now?

A. I live in Chicago and graduated from West Aurora High School.

Q. What's one of your earliest memories of dancing?

A. I started dancing when I was about 7 years old. I remember being in a ballet class and learning the dance for a recital. At the ending pose — I had to hold a boy's hand. But a more pinnacle moment was when I was 9 or 10 and my parents took me to see a dance concert. It was the River North Chicago Dance Company. Two pieces stuck with me, "Glimpse" and "Reality of a Dreamer." That's when I knew I wanted to be a dancer.

Cassandra Porter, left, of Aurora, Christian Denice and Hanna Brictson will perform for River North Chicago Dance Company Saturday.

COURTESY OF RIVER NORTH CHICAGO DANCE COMPANY

Q. Are you happy here in Chicago?

A. I have tested the waters on the ships and this is where I want to be.

Q. What do you want to do when you retire from dancing?

A. I kind of want to be a baker. I want to decorate cakes.

Wheaton to bury time capsule

BY ROBERT SANCHEZ
bsanchez@dailyherald.com

After getting the opportunity to open a time capsule from the late 1950s, Wheaton is going to return the favor to generations 50 years from now.

The city has collected a number of items — including newspapers, books and DVDs — for a time capsule set to be opened on Wheaton's bicentennial anniversary in 2059. The capsule will be buried this weekend in front of city hall, 303 W. Wesley St., Wheaton.

"This is an excellent teaching device for us as a city," Mayor Michael Gresk said. "Fifty years from now, when we celebrate our 200th anniversary, there will be artifacts and documents and letters that we can put forward to Wheaton at the middle of this century. I'm just very excited about it."

If you go

What: Wheaton time capsule dedication

When: 9 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 7

Where: Wheaton city hall, 303 W. Wesley St., Wheaton

Cost: Free

Info: wheaton.il.us/

In June, the city opened a time capsule from 1959 as part of its yearlong sesquicentennial celebration. That capsule was created to mark Wheaton's 100th anniversary and was originally buried at the old police station site along Wheaton Avenue. It was unearthed for the first time when the building was demolished in 1992 and reburied at the current police station site along Liberty Drive.

When it was finally opened, the 1959 capsule contained items such as posters, toys and letters.

For the new capsule, the city asked community groups, schools and residents to submit items and spent several months getting everything together.

"There's a big variety of items representing the town," said Susan Wallace, the city's special projects assistant.

Wallace said the list of items placed inside the time capsule include a Wheaton North High School cheerleading uniform, photographs, a cellular phone and variety of items from Wheaton's sesquicentennial anniversary celebration. There are even a few advertisements.

All the contents were prepared for burial with the help of the Center for History in Wheaton.

For information about Saturday's dedication ceremony, visit the city's Web site at wheaton.il.us/.

Alberta Adamson, president and CEO of the Center for History in Wheaton, prepares the items that will be placed inside a time capsule to be opened in 2059.

76 holds its annual turkey dinner fundraiser from 5 to 7 p.m. at the post, 570 S. Gary Ave., Carol Stream. Info: (630) 682-0076.

• Residents learn about Aurora's community services at the Georgetown Relief Efforts Neighborhood Organization monthly meeting at 9 a.m. in Eola Community Center, 555 S. Eola Road, Aurora. Free.

Info: (630) 264-4636.

Sunday 8

The Chicago Youth Symphony Orchestra presents an afternoon of puppets and puppets at 3 p.m. at North Central College's Wentz Concert Hall, 171 E. Chicago Ave., Naperville. Free. Info: (312) 939-2207, ext. 31.

Mark your calendar

Today

The Elmhurst College Jazz Band and the vocal jazz ensemble Late Night Blues perform at 7:30 p.m. at the Mill Theatre, 253 Walter St., Elmhurst. Free. Info: (630) 617-3515 or elmhurst.edu.

• Wheaton Newcomers' annual Holiday Bazaar runs 6 to 9 p.m. at St. Daniel the Prophet Church, 101 West Loop Road, Wheaton. Admission: $5. Info: wheatonnewcomers.com.

• Find out about the vampire that may be running loose in "Bloodhounds," a comic murder mystery by Eileen Moushey, at 7 p.m. Nov. 6, and 7 and 8 p.m. Nov. 8 at Villa Park Public Library, 305 S. Ardmore Ave. Tickets: $15, $12 for Friends of Library. Info: (630) 834-1164.

• "Charlotte's Web" takes the stage at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. at Oakbrook Terrace Park District's Mario Parente Theater, 15325 Ardmore Ave. Tickets: $6.25 and must be purchased in advance. Info: (630) 627-6100 or obtpd.org.

• Author Kimberly Thompson

and illustrator Christopher Easey sign their book,

"Toulouse on the Loose," from

7 to 9 p.m. at the DuPage Art

League, 218 W. Front St., Wheaton. Proceeds from book sales benefit the art league. Info: (630) 653-7090.

Saturday 7

Concordia Circle's craft show and sale is from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Christ Our Savior Lutheran Church, 0501

Summit Drive, Winfield. Includes handcrafted holiday decorations, a bake sale, lunch. Info: (630) 665-5110.

• Naperville Junior Woman's Club's 38th annual Fashion Show fundraiser starts at 10 a.m. at Bobak's Signature

Events and Conference Center at Seven Bridges, 6440 Double Eagle Drive, Woodridge. Includes lunch at noon, silent auction, raffle packages and grand prizes. Proceeds benefit charities. Info: njwfashionshow.evbrite.com or (630) 369-4389 or (630) 904-1790.

• The Mistletoe Mart, a sale of jewelry, crafts and baked goods, runs 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the First Church of Lombard, 220 S. Main